Bài viết của em: Trần Tiên Hoàng lớp 10 A 2

Life is an extensive journey. Sometimes, a trip may bring us to meaningful places. I wonder if, by chance or luck, it took me to Nguyen Khuyen High School, which I cuddled up with reverie and adoringly called "my second home."

One day, I was a new student entering this school and timidly found this place strange. However, today when I put a pen about this school roof in my heart, I feel a tumult as the nostalgic feelings when I first stepped into this gorgeous home. From the first moment I crossed the threshold of Nguyen Khuyen school, I just knew the right moment that ever since then, I had an extra home to love, to remember, a place to turn to, and to carve in my mind. A part of our youth is here; a part of our love is here. Since then, I have grown up in a study environment encouraging self-learning.

After attending this school, I was immersed in the warmth and affection of the second parents toward their children. They are dedicated teachers who diligently convey new knowledge with all their hearts and souls daily. They have devoted their compassion and wisdom to light the fire of knowledge in each of us and encouraged us to step by step in learning and life skills. Who has always been with us when we have not understood the lecture? Who beamed when seeing us get higher academic results? Who has not hesitated to the difficult time of getting up late and getting up early to prepare the daily lesson plan? Who has been winging us to fulfill our dreams and ambitions to become decent people? No one else, those are our dear "ferryman." Many generations of schoolchildren grown-up at Nguyen Khuyen, which was engraved on their memory as a safe harbor, a solid spiritual fulcrum to continue on the path of a complicated and challenging life.

Consequently, learning under the roof of this school gives me a chance to make new sincere friends who give me a leg up and split difficulties, joys and sorrows down the middle as brothers in a family. In addition, more significantly, the people who silently sacrifice for our hours of living give us luscious meals and deep sleep. That's the laborers of Nguyen Khuyen High School. I always love and cherish the moments of having fun and studying in this typical house. I love everything here, from the corner of the courtyard to the classroom, the lush grass, and the drunken hours of fun laughing. Likewise, somewhere deep in my soul, all the classmates who live under this loving Nguyen Khuyen roof give the school a place in their hearts. My parents brought me up and brought me forth. Nguyen Khuyen gives me the knowledge to become a talent. Therefore, it's all familiar, lovely, and bold in the memory of people here.

School time allows you to feel giggles and irreplaceable. Innocent, dreamy, full of living souls, challenging problems, unfinished writing problems, bullshit stories with roommates, etc. Oh, how mesmerizing it is! Unfortunately, it will drift away like waves crashing into the sea and can't return. At least you and I do not have a radar: "In 2022, we studied and lived together in the Nguyen Khuyen house". After the groves of academe, I will never fail to remember this place- my second home. I will still love, still cherish the best of my recollection as a gift of life-giving. Afterward, the future is still ahead; we are still writing the pages of our memories...

Hove "my second home"!

When our future seems just gloomy and dark
It is time to search for that fantastic spark
That is always there; Nguyen Khuyen never goes out
No matter how gray the sky is, how dark the cloud is.
No matter how disturbing the news, we read
We can always find what we truly need
That spark of passion, that burning call
A flame, a fire of love, we truly need it.

Home – is a special place that plays a vital role in every individual's life because love and felicity also can find protection here. Many sites can call home depending on the specific definitions of each people. For example, athletes call their team a second home, and the same can be observed in musicians with their bands. Therefore, my high school is also known as my lovely new house.

The school mentioned in the previous graph is Nguyen Khuyen high school, where I enrolled and was a student for nearly six months. I am proud of my second house because of its excellent reputation as a pioneer in university exams. In addition, educational procedures and high–quality material facilities have contributed to the school's success since it was founded. With the cooperation of the two first headteachers: professionals Le Tri Vien and Nguyen Ngoc Phan, many generations of students gain accomplishment in their chosen path and graduate high school with their dream universities.

The massive structure impressed me the first time arriving at this school, which was beautifully decorated and polished, more than any school I had been to. Despite the boarding school, Nguyen Khuyen showed me a very orderly lifestyle in which students can have time for sports, friends, and learning. Sometimes, cramming and burying homework day in and day out is essential for pupils because the exam organizes every week. Therefore, particular students must prepare for university entrance instead of working hard when the exam is coming.

Secondly, two of the things I love most in this school are the meals and the teachers. If some foreigners come to Vietnam and ask for traditional food, I recommend lunch in our school because that meal symbolizes the most Vietnamese food. Despite cooking for thousands of students, the cuisine always tastes good with a beautiful aroma and changes daily. Furthermore, when discussing the school, you must mention the teacher's quality. In Nguyen Khuyen, the teachers generally love their students and always encourage them to do their best in their exams, and the advantage is that you don't have to get a bonus class after the main category.

Furthermore, their instruction in every subject, from Math, Physics, and Biology, makes students interested in learning because of attractive presentations and practical, interactive activities. For instance, Mrs. My Ha always uses English in class and allows us to speak in English as much as possible. Thus I can improve my speaking skills by leaps and bounds.

At the end of the essay, I am glad to be part of the Nguyen Khuyen family, and I promise to try my best not to be dissatisfied with my teachers.

Nguyen Khuyen Junior High School - the school that I have always wished to be a member of. 4-5 years ago, when Nguyen Khuyen was still known as "prison", the end of the joyful time of student life. However, I - a person who had always ignored those words and consistently chose Nguyen Khuyen for my high school years.

That dream of mine kept brooding in the mind of a 7th grader girl. When I finished middle school, I manually filled out the admission application form with the desire to have an excellent environment to study with new friends and teachers. Unfortunately, due to the Covid 19 epidemic, in the first semester of grade 10, all of our students had to study online. It was on January 3 that we officially returned to school, becoming official students of Nguyen Khuyen.

The first day I came to Nguyen Khuyen was also the day that I had to learn to stay away from my parents. At that time, I experienced being homesick and missing my friends and the scene where I used to live. But miraculously, the care and concern from teachers and friends made me feel the warmth of intimacy. We studied, played, and shared everything, all of which alleviated our homesickness. The memory that I remember the most is when I was sick, I tried not to cry because of tiredness, but when Mrs. Binh, my room teacher, came over and asked if I was okay, she took great care of me, that moment I couldn't help but shed tears. She stopped by until I entered the infirmary to check that I was okay. Then, when I was slumberous, I still heard her say I was her daughter. At that time, I was touched, and deep in my heart, I considered her my mother.

My time in Nguyen Khuyen may not be long, but this place allows me to feel the warmth of family, which we boarding students always crave. And maybe to others, NKP means Nguyen Khuyen Prison, but to me, it means Nguyen Khuyen Paradise, with all the brothers and sisters.

It is not natural that people want to go back to school age, nor is it intentional that student life keeps blowing into our soul's beautiful memories and memorable emotions that are nameless and unforgettable. Therefore, I will never forget the memories under the roof of Nguyen Khuyen school, my second home.

I will cherish the memories of Monday mornings with creative and humane Reading Reports, not just exciting and equally competitive extracurricular activities during recess but also everyone's active participation in the creative and entertaining English club, and so on. These activities help us relieve stress after tiring school hours, otherwise helping develop soft skills and competitiveness among students, making them learn how to cooperate with teammates and overcome or solve difficult situations.

I have participated in one of them, which is English club activities. I am enthusiastic about drawing and decorating, so I decided to apply for the Daily magazine team, and that day, our group worked together on the topic 'Of Thailand's culture. During the completion of the project, we needed help finding information and agreeing on how to present the article. But thanks to the support of the teachers, we finished it satisfactorily and well. Since then, I have experienced many new things; different experiences are not accessible.

In conclusion, I will never forget the sweet days, the precious times of High School, and the particular secondary school. Instead, I will cherish every moment now so that when I look back later, I won't have to regret and sadly utter the word "If only..."!!!

School is considered a second home for students. Nguyen Khuyen high school-where I am studying, gives me the feeling that this is my second home. I am very honored to check here. I love this school very much for the following reasons.

It must be recognized that I was not used to the new environment in the early days, but I was able to adapt after a while. The school allocates study time reasonably for us, making us feel as comfortable as possible. Because we have to stay in a boarding house for a week, sometimes it feels very stressful, but we always have housekeepers and boarding teachers who are very attentive and dedicated. What's more remarkable is that I have made many new friends since coming here, we study together, eat and sleep together very happily, whenever I feel tired, there are always the next friends. The side comforts me and makes me feel much better, and I feel glad to be with them. Moreover, my teachers and friends here are like parents and siblings.

Besides that, my school is very modern and fully equipped. Our social studies are taught by projector as well as my school has many function rooms such as a computer lab, chemistry lab, physics lab, and biology lab. In addition, the school also organizes many activities for us to have fun and manages learning playgrounds for entertainment and training. Nguyen Khuyen always makes us feel comfortable when living and studying here.

In conclusion, Nguyen Khuyen is like my second home-always bringing comfort, comfort, and warmth. Everything here and everyone here makes me feel like I'm at home. I love everything here and this school too.

For everyone, the age of a student is the most enjoyable and unworried time. In every student's life, our first memories of school, teacher and friend are highly esteemed. But for me, maybe the day I first walked into the doorway of Nguyen Khuyen High School is the most memorable. Initially, I chose Nguyen Khuyen because I knew the quality of training and since then I have determined that this is where I would study if I wanted to realize my college dream. When I applied to school, Nguyen Khuyen was not the only place to fulfill my college dream but I think it was the best place. However, I was also very hesitant about whether to try Nguyen Khuyen, so I decided to take a 6 weeks summer school at Nguyen Khuyen. After 6 weeks of studying at school, I have gradually adapted and fell in love with this school. Fortunately, I was officially accepted into the school and became an NK-ers. At school, I was exposed to friends in many different regions, at first I couldn't adapt but gradually I got used to that environment.For me,I am most afraid of feeling isolated from everyone around, but fortunately, I have met friends who always share, encourage and comfort me. There our teacher view us as the children of the family, take good care of them,ask questions,and listen when they talk about good things.Nguyen Khuyen is like "Second house" to me.As I entered the school I was especially impressed by the school motto: "Going to Nguyen Khuyen is to make progress."Sometimes I feel pressured in studying, maybe because I don't understand the lesson or I don't know the knowledge. In the periodic tests, if the score is lower than your peers, we are easily depressed and fall into sadness and inability to concentrate. Most students are like that, but I think that if we try, we can get better results in the next exams rather than envy or competition. Living in a boarding environment is also a new experience that I have never experienced. Nguyen Khuyen is like my second home, a place to teach me to be human,to be talented and virtuous. Nguyen Khuyen-The school for training Vietnamese talents.
