READING

Choose the correct answers.

Up to about 1915, movies were short and programs were made up to several works. Then, D. W. Griffith and others began to make longer films that provided the same powerful emotional appeal as did melodrama and presented spectacles far beyond what the theater could offer. Consequently, after World War I increasing numbers of spectators deserted the theater for the movies. This trend was accelerated in the late 1920s as a result of two new elements. In 1927 sound was added to the previously silent film, and thus one of the theater's principal claims to superiority vanished. In 1929 a serious economic depression began. Since audiences could go to the movies for a fraction of what it cost to see a play, theater-going became a luxury that few could afford, especially as the depression deepened.

By the end of World War II, the American theater had been reduced to about thirty theaters in New York City and a small number of touring companies originating there.

1. One thing that movies could do better than the theater was to.....

- A. provide longer programs. B. provide emotional appeal.
C. provide more melodrama. D. provide greater spectacles.

2. Up to the 1920s one objection to film was that.....

- A. they were too short. B. they were silent.
C. they were too expensive. D. they did not tell a complete

3. One thing that made people choose the movies over the theater was.....

- A. World War I.
B. the fact that films were less expensive
C. the fact that films were silent.
D. the fact that films were shorter.

4. By the end of the World War II,

- A. theater had become entertainment for the mass
B. the theater was no longer considered a luxury
C. professional theatrical performances were confined mainly to New York City
D. There were no theatrical performances outside of New York City.

5. When the author of this paragraph says 'this trend was accelerated in late 1920s' he means that.....

- A. many more people went to the theater than to the movies.
B. the shift away from the movies to the theater was slowed down.

C. the popularity of the theater was gradually increasing.

D. the shift away from the theater to the movies was speeded up.

Choose the word or phrase - a, b, c, or d - that best completes the sentence

No other sporting event captures the world's imagination like the FIFA World Cup. Ever since the first tentative competition in Uruguay in 1930, FIFA's flagship has constantly grown in popularity and prestige.

A group of visionary French football administrators, led in the 1920s by the innovative Jules Rimet, are credited with the original idea of bringing the world's strongest national football teams together to compete for the title of World Champions. The original gold trophy bore Jules Rimet's name and was contested three times in the 1930s, before the Second World War put a 12-year stop to the competition:

When it resumed, the FIFA World Cup rapidly advanced to its undisputed status as the greatest single sporting event of the modern world. Held since 1958 alternately in Europe and the Americas, the World Cup broke new ground with the Executive Committee's decision in May 1996 to select Korea and Japan as co-hosts for the 2002 edition.

Today, the FIFA World Cup holds the entire global public under its spell. An accumulated audience of over 37 billion people watched the France 98 tournament, including approximately 1.3 billion for the final alone, while over 2.7 million people flocked to watch the 64 matches in the French stadia.

After all these years and so many changes, however, the main focus of the FIFA World Cup remains the same the glistening golden trophy, which is the embodiment of every footballer's ambition.

6. The first World Cup tournament was held in.....

- A. 1920 B. 1930 C. 1958 D. 1996

7. Who are believed to be responsible for the idea of competing for the title of World Champions?

B. was held three times in the 1930.
C. resumed in 1958.
D. was halted by the outbreak of the war.

9. The 2002. World Cup.....

- A. was the first World Cup held in Asia.
B. was decided in May 1996.
C. was held in Korea in cooperation with Japan.
D. broke a new ground.

10. Which of the following is not true?

- A. The golden trophy represents footballer's ambition.
B. The FIFA World Cup is the greatest sporting event in the world.
C. The 2002 World Cup was held jointly by Korea and Japan.
D. The focus of the FIFA World Cup has changed little since the first competition was held in 1930.
