Many people believe that watching television has resulted in lower reading standards in schools. However, the link between television and printed books is not as simple as that. In many cases, television actually encourages people to read; for example, when a book is turned into a TV series, its sales often go up.

One study of this link examined six-year-old children who were viewing a special series of 15-minute programs at school. The series was designed to encourage love of books, as well as to develop the basic mechanical skills of reading. Each program is an animated film of a children's book. The story is read aloud and certain key phrases from the book appear on the screen, beneath the picture. Whenever a word is read, it is also highlighted on the TV screen.

One finding was that watching these programs was very important to the children. If anything prevented them from seeing a program, they were very disappointed. What's more, they wanted to read the books which the different parts of the series were based on.

The programs also gave the children more confidence when looking at these books. As a result of their familiarity with the stories, they would sit in pairs and read the stories aloud to each other. On each occasion, the children showed great sympathy when discussing a character in a book because they themselves had been moved when watching the character on television.

Question 30: What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. The simple link between television and books.
- B. The influence of television on reading books.
- C. The advantage of books over television.
- D. The ways of children reading books and watching TV.

Question 31: Which of the following is NOT TRUE according to the passage?

- A. When a book is made into a TV series, it encourages people to read.
- B. Children felt excited when viewing a special series of 15-minute program at school.
- C. Whenever a word is read, it is also highlighted on the TV screen.
- D. One finding was that watching these programs was very unessential to the children.

Question 32: The word “important” in the third paragraph could be best replaced by _____.

- A. unessential      B. insignificant      C. necessary      D. valueless

Question 33: The word “they” in paragraph 4 refers to “_____”.

The (17) _____ of the earth is caused by exhaust gas from automobile engines, factories and power stations. Carbon dioxide goes up into the atmosphere, and it forms a kind of factories that keeps or rather allows the sunshine in but stop the earth's heat from getting out. It works like a greenhouse, that's why we call it the Greenhouse Effect.

(18) _____ of this effect, the earth is getting warmer all the time. This (19) _____ in temperature will cause big changes to the world's climate. The sea level will rise, the ice covering the poles will melt and cause the sea level to rise.

The second problem is the loss of the ozone layer. Certain chemicals float up to the sky and react with the ozone layer, and they make holes in it. Because of these holes the ultraviolet rays can shine directly to the earth. (20) _____ people are now starting to suffer from skin cancer.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 24 to 28.

Many people believe that watching television has resulted in lower reading standards in schools. However, the link between television and printed books is not as simple as that. In many cases, television actually encourages people to read; for example, when a book is turned into a TV series, its sales often go up.

One study of this link examined six-year-old children who were viewing a special series of 15-minute programs at school. The series was designed to encourage love of books, as well as to develop the basic mechanical skills of reading. Each program is an animated film of a children's book. The story is read aloud and certain key phrases from the book appear on the screen, beneath the picture. Whenever a word is read, it is also highlighted on the TV screen.

One finding was that watching these programs was very important to the children. If anything prevented them from seeing a program, they were very disappointed. What's more, they wanted to read the books which the different parts of the series were based on.

The programs also gave the children more confidence when looking at these books. As a result of their familiarity with the stories, they would sit in pairs and read the stories aloud to each other. On each occasion, the children showed great sympathy when discussing a character in a book because they themselves had been moved when watching the character on television.

Question 24: Which of the following is NOT TRUE according to the passage?

- A. When a book is made into a TV series, it encourages people to read.
- B. One finding was that watching these programs was very unessential to the children.
- C. Children felt excited when viewing a special series of 15-minute program at school.
- D. Whenever a word is read, it is also highlighted on the TV screen.

Question 25: The word "important" in the third paragraph could be best replaced by _____.

Question 27: What advantage did children have from this program?

- A. They became more sympathetic.
- B. They made more friends.
- C. They became more interested in watching TV.
- D. They read books with more interest and confidence.

Question 28: What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. The influence of television on reading books.
- B. The simple link between television and books.
- C. The advantage of books over television.
- D. The ways of children reading books and watching TV.
